

Nursing education and professional development: the global perspective

International Conference and Exhibition hosted by the RCN Education Forum

£255

Calling all nurse educators: do you have an innovative project, cutting edge initiative or contemporary research within the academic or practice setting to share with the nursing community?

By presenting and attending this conference you will:

- Reflect and build on your work. Use debate, discussion and reflection to strengthen your knowledge
- Learn about the work of your contemporaries. Understand how you can translate learning in your work environment
- Hear from eminent keynote speakers on current nursing issues. Consider how these may impact on your practice and ask the questions you want answers to
- Build networks, meet like-minded peers and expand your knowledge across the professional practice sector
- Advocate for and help influence the future of nursing education and practice.

By attending and sharing your experiences you will advocate for and help influence the future direction of nursing education and practice in the UK and beyond.
